Hon. Dwight H. Brown
Secretary of State
Jefferson City, Missouri

Dear Sir:

Under date of July 7, 1942, this department rendered an opinion to you upon the following request:

"May I be favored with your opinion as to how candidates in 1st and 26th senatorial districts may get their names on the special election ballot? Also candidates for the lower house? What duties has the secretary of state in connection with these special elections? How is the senatorial district party committee in 1st and 26th districts made up?"

It has been suggested that the question relative to members of the lower house was not definitely answered in such opinion.

To the end that the above question may be specifically ruled, it is again considered, and the following conclusion is the opinion of this department:

CONCLUSION

It is the opinion of this department that the conclusion reached in the opinion of this office on July 7, 1942, applies to the nomination of candidates for the House of Representatives, as well as candidates for the Senate, with the exception that the county central committee would perform the functions for House of Representative nominations possessed by the senatorial party committees in the senatorial nominations. In other words, with reference to candidates for the lower house the county central committee should be substituted in such opinion for the senatorial party committee.

Hon. Dwight H. Brown

Respectfully submitted,

TYRE W. BURTON
Assistant Attorney General
